

Honor, Humiliation, and Terror An Explosive Mix – And How We Can Defuse It with Dignity

Evelin Lindner
MD, Psychologist, Dr. med., Dr. psychol.
2017

Copyright © 2017 by Evelin Lindner
Published by World Dignity University Press, an imprint of Dignity Press
16 Northview Court
Lake Oswego, OR 97035
USA

www.dignitypress.org

Print ISBN: 978-1-937570-97-2<

eISBN: Apple 978-1-937570-98-9 and Kindle 978-1-937570-99-6

See also www.humiliationstudies.org/howeare/evelin/book/05.php

Short Book Description

Humankind has reached a boiling point. Hijacked by toxic competition for dominance, "might" has become "right." The consequence is ubiquitous destruction executed through tools of terror. This book is a breathtaking, globally informed account of how we can reverse this rising tide, making dignity our destiny and legacy... before it is too late.

Extended Book Description

Humankind has reached a boiling point. Violence, hatred, and terror have become deeply entangled with honor, heroism, glory, loyalty, and love. Over the past five percent of modern human history on planet Earth, roughly the past ten millennia, human activity has reached a crescendo of rapid and ruthless competition for domination, a fight for power over people and the planet, where "might" has become "right." Within this context, a dangerous culture of honor has evolved, in which destruction is mercilessly merged with love: "It is my duty, if I love my people, to heroically destroy our enemies and secure all resources for us,” underwritten by an ominous motto: "If you want peace, prepare for war."

Humanity has haphazardly constructed an entire world-system on top of this merger, holding the whole world hostage through never-ending cycles of domination and humiliation. The consequence, today, is the ubiquitous destruction of human and environmental life on this planet. Terror and terrorism are the tools of a twisted honor system that should alert us to the mounting danger while we still have a window of opportunity for change.

With this book, the author encourages us to recognize the immense historic opportunity that is open to us in the wake of these dangerous times. Drawing on 40 years of research gathered on her personal path of living globally, she calls us to action in service of restoring and replenishing the health of human arrangements of relationships, emphasizing the lifesaving necessity of mutually dignifying cooperation. When we overcome the legacy of honor and terror together, in mutual respect, we can address the social and environmental crises of our time and the terror these developments foment.

This book is a breathtaking, globally informed account of how humanity can reverse the rising tide of terror, making dignity our destiny and legacy... before it is too late.

Foreword by Linda Hartling, Director of Human Dignity and Humiliation Studies

Contents

Section One: The Security Dilemma – Too Far Apart and Too Close Together

Chapter 1: The Dominator Mindset – Where Does It Come From?

Chapter 2: How Spirituality Fell Prey to the Security Dilemma

Chapter 3: Also Human Nature and Cultural Diversity Fell Prey to the Security Dilemma

Chapter 4: The Rise of the “Art of Domination”

Chapter 5: How Pressure-Cooker Vents Explode

Section Two: Honor Humiliation – The Duty to Retaliate

Chapter 6: Honor Is Like Armor, and Heroes Are Proud of Their Battle Wounds

Chapter 7: The Rise of the “Art of Humiliation”

Chapter 8: Humility Remains Indispensable

Chapter 9: Méconnaissance, or How One Can Damage One’s Own Best Interest

Chapter 10: How Voluntary Self-Humiliation Is Possible

Chapter 11: How Dominator Economics Terrorize

Section Three: Peace the Traditional Way – A Balance of Terror

Chapter 12: The Security Dilemma Was Once Inescapable

Chapter 13: Patriots Deserve Respect

Chapter 14: "War for Peace" Was All We Once Knew

Chapter 15: Maintaining a Balance of Terror Is Costly

Chapter 16: Sow the Wind and Reap the Storm

Chapter 17: How the Terror of “War for Peace” Is Still with Us

Chapter 18: What Then Must We Do? Outlook into the Future...

Inspiring and Thought-Provoking Questions